

Jim Smith

Jim Smith is the new General Manger of the Frankfort Plant Board. Jim and his family recently relocated here from Atlanta to accept this new position. He was most recently the director of College Park Power in Atlanta, and has 30 years of experience with electric, gas, water, and telecommunications utilities. Jim's priorities for the plant board include improved customer service and increased accountability.