JANUARY 12th Rotary Meeting
We will be meeting at the Civic Center for the Jan. 12th meeting.

THIS WEEK'S PROGRAM

The speaker for the day was Jan Arnow of the Department of Education who spoke about multi-cultural education issues. When asked what Rotarians remembered as important issues of the day when they were 16, things mentioned were getting drivers licenses, Elvis, the Civil Rights movement, peer pressure, clothing etc. In a 1991 survey of 16 year olds, the first five topics were AIDS, teen suicide, crack, abortion and racism. Missing from previous curriculums were women and minorities. This shows the importance of multi-cultural education. Goals of multi-cultural education are to affirm that all children are in all cultural groups. We must know ourselves before we can know others. We must value diversity and respect for persons with different backgrounds. Children must live fruitful lives in a culturally mobile society. The borders of countries today are constantly changing. We have to learn to like people who are not like ourselves. There are 5 areas of difference in multi-cultural education. (1) Race (2) Country of origin (3) Socio-economic status (4) Gender (5) Religion. Until recently, there was a lack of materials on multi-cultural education and now there is too much. These materials are on products everywhere because it is a hot topic. Children need to learn through multi-cultural education like we have learned to use seat belts and buy recyclable products.

NEXT WEEK'S PROGRAM

Next week's speaker will be Dr. Kay Collier-Slone, Psycho-Social Journalist, Consultant & Motivational Speaker, Episcopal Diocese of Lexington, Kentucky.

Unfortunately, children are taught to hate today through war toys, violent video games and MTV. Comic books are also violent. We all need to get involved and train teachers and community leaders on how to deal with these issues. We simply can't separate what is happening in Bosnia, for example, from what is happening in our own communities. Conflict should be considered archaic in resolving problems on a global scale but children often have no empathy. We all must get involved by supporting multi-cultural education. If you want to help, call 564-6916 or 473-1909.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

"If you haven't any charity in your heart, you have the worst kind of heart trouble."
 ... Bob Hope

THIS WEEK'S PROGRAM

Kay Collier Sloane, counseling psychologist gave Rotarians thoughts on how to work toward balance in their daily lives, using the following:

1. Have a "cool down" time each day, each week, each month. Give yourself that time and let nothing move it off your calendar.
2. Are you attentive to your soul?
3. How are your human connections? Do you find loyalty, reciprocity and presence in those connections?
4. Do you have opportunity for grace, valuing those for who and what they are rather than what they do?
5. Do you believe in something/someone bigger than yourself?
6. Where do you get your life energy... what do you move toward smiling, and what moves you toward light rather than darkness?
7. Are you happy with you?
8. Are you doing your life work at least some part of every week?
9. Do you accept your own inadequacies and failures as part of human life, or do you put on the false personal of strength?
10. Can you let go of your need to have power over someone, and take back your power from anyone you've allowed to have power over you?

Reflecting on these thoughts can lead to goals to set for your life, some of which may include:

MEMBERSHIP PROPOSAL

The following individual has been proposed for membership in the Frankfort Rotary Club:

R. Clay Hulette
Classification: Tax Accountant
Proposer: Henry Leadingham

This application has been approved by the board and is now presented to the membership for your approval.

THIS WEEK'S PROGRAM

Our speaker was Dr. Thomas G. Boyesen, Kentucky Commissioner of Education. With him was his Deputy Commissioner. He is a former Rotary Club President, and a Paul Harris Fellow. -- He brought out that Japanese students spend 40 hours a week in school and do twenty hours a week of homework, for a total of 60 hours. The average Kentucky high school student spends 25 hours a week in school and does 5 hours a week of homework, for a total of 30 hours. Are we competitive today in a global economy? (He is a "nut" about homework.) In China, many schools run a business on the side, to have enough money to pay competitive salaries to the teachers. He asked Senator Walter Baker in the audience to think about this. He once coached a soccer team, and spent time teaching all the players various drills. But, when they played their first game, they had no sense of the game -- they only knew their drills. This is the way we've been teaching students, and what we want to change with KERA. In 1992-93, about 75% of the schools made progress. With accountability, schools that improve a given amount pay cash bonus's to the teachers, so he hopes this percentage will improve this year. Overall, Kentucky is making terrific progress in their schools. During Q&A, he brought out that in China, there is a selection process beginning in elementary school for students to go on to higher education. Possibly not a good thing. Also, under KERA, Parent involvement is important. Children should be a resource TO the family, not vice versa.

NEXT WEEK'S PROGRAM

"RI and the UN: The Ties Thant Bind"
A slideshow on the UN and a videotape highlighting the working relationship between the UN and RI. Presented by Bill Miller.
