THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

President Barry's thought for the day: What you will be tomorrow depends on the choices you make today.

POSTMASTER: Send address changes to the Frankfortarian, P. O. Box 93, Frankfort, KY 40602.

THIS WEEK'S SPEAKER

The speakers for the day were Bill Miller, Barry Holder, Sr. and John Schaaf who kicked off February as Rotary World Understanding month. Barry stated that the United Nations concept actually began in 1940 although the UN Charter was not signed until 1945 in San Francisco. The first conference was actually held in Havana, Cuba and then in London in 1943 where Rotary expressed an interest in cultural exchanges. This led to the creation of UNESCO and was the forerunner of Rotary's Group Study Exchange. Rotarians were instrumental in drafting the first Charter. A former vice president of Rotary International was the first President of the UN General Assembly. Barry then showed a tape entitled Rotary and the UN: 1945 and Today. The tape started out with a speech by President Truman inaugurating the UN. In the first ten years, the Rotarian carried 75 articles on the UN. The UN is involved in much more than peacekeeping which consists of only about 15% of the budget. Other areas involve drug abuse, illiteracy, pollution, and sickness and hunger like the Polio-Plus campaign. The tape concluded with an address by RI President Bill Huntley who announced plans to celebrate the 50th anniversary in San Francisco. Discussion at the conference will center around goals and opportunities for future cooperation between Rotary and the UN.

The next speaker was John Schaaf, president of the Frankfort Chapter of the United Nations Association. He spoke of a commonality of goals between Rotary and UN including education, advocacy, and participation. Concerning education, this is done through UNA programs, child labor and work place safety which are common concerns of Rotary and UN. The UNA does not give blind support to the UN but provides objective criticism and dissent is invited.

As to advocacy and participation, UNA encourages the State Dept. to actively Participate in the UN. There is a need to communicate with members of Congress to support UN programs. Specific activities upcoming at UNA include a World View conference with the UK Patterson School of Diplomacy and an Editors Seminar. A program is planned in conjunction with the Frankfort Arts Foundation with a concert by the Louisville Orchestra this October as a UNA fundraising event. Former Attorney General Elliott Richardson is a possible speaker for the F.A.F. 1995-96 season. Finally, UNA will sponsor an essay contest for local high school students.

NEXT WEEK'S SPEAKER

Next week's speaker will be Carol Ullerich, "Swedish Adventure: Rotary Group Study Exchange."

NEXT WEEK'S SPEAKER

"Focus on Kentucky State University: African American History month and Various International Programs", Mr. Jimmy Gordon, Director of Center of Excellence for Study of Kentucky African-Americans and Mr. Tom McPartland, Acting Dean, Whitney Young Scholars Program.

THIS WEEK'S SPEAKER

Our guest speaker on February 8, 1995 was Carol Ullerich, our 1994 participant in the Group Study Exchange Program to Sweden. Carol presented a slide and video show of her five and one-half week trip on the only all women team in the program. Carol's commentary was very interesting, centering, around homelife, prison, religion, industry, farming, sports, military, transportation, holidays, and Rotary fellowship. Carol presented flags to our club from 5 clubs in Sweeden. She thanked us for allowing her to participate in this wonderful experience. Her presentation was worthy of our commitment to this program.

ROTARY CELEBRATES 90 YEARS

On February 23, 1905, a cold, wintry day in Chicago, Illinois, USA, the Rotary seed was planted. That was the day young lawyer Paul Harris met with three friends - Gustavus Loehr, Silvester Schiele and Hiram Shorey - with the idea of starting a club to foster small-town fellowship in the big city and to build a business network.

Nearly a century later, the Rotary movement, far broader in scope than its founders ever dreamed, thrives in thousands of cities across the globe.

On Thursday, February 23, 1995 Rotary International celebrates its 90th birthday!

THIS WEEK'S SPEAKER

Rotarian Bill Miller brought two speakers February 15, both of whom related not only to the cultural attainments of Kentucky State University, but also to African American History Month, which is February. First came James Joseph Gordon, an assistant professor of history at KSU, who described the operations of the Center of Excellence for the Study of Kentucky African Americans (CESKAA). Mr. Gordon described the development of the Center under the leadership of President Mary Smith of KSU. He said the Center is a repository of materials which it collects and makes available on many levels. For one thing, it solicits family and genealogical information from African American families in Kentucky. The Center also has done exhibits of its holdings, and has an ongoing project with students of Second Street School in Frankfort. Mr. Gordon also said the Center aims to preserve the heritage of African Americans in this state and eventually for the use of the National Preservation Trust at the national level. Mr. Gordon paid special tribute to David Weller who has been supportive of the Center through corporate funding. He referred also to Dr. Richard Taylor who has been active in campus support of the Center. Mr. Gordon said KSU is active in the forefront of communicating about the values of diversity in our culture in general, and of Kentucky State in specific.

Mr. Thomas McPartland, a scholar in philosophy and history, is the acting dean of the Whitney Young Scholars Program, which he said was modeled on the great books approach of the great private schools of the Northeast. McPartland said the faculty of the honors program is trained in the interdisciplinary approach. He also said it has been essential to emphasize an international studies program as part of the interdisciplinary honors curriculum. KSU now is involved in a program of study abroad which began with Great Britain, but may expand to the Caribbean and Africa. This is part of an International Studies Program which has resulted in a minor consisting of 21 hours credit. Students take a few required courses, and then construct their programs by selecting from an extensive list of 50 or more approved courses. The International Studies Program features student exchanges and faculty involvement abroad. Mr. McPartland explained at length how vital it has become for students to form an international approach to learning and to shaping career preparation for a life and career that depends upon their grasp of international ramifications which affect the entire scope of their futures.

NEXT WEEK'S PROGRAM

"RI's Ambassadorial Program: Focus on Australia", Bill Brewer, Rotary Ambassador Participant.

OPENING EXERCISES FOR FEBRUARY 22nd will be done by Lee Troutwine.

OPENING EXERCISES FOR MARCH 1st will be done by David Cobb.

POSTMASTER: Send address changes to the Frankfortarian, P. O. Box 93, Frankfort, KY 40602.

THIS WEEK'S SPEAKER

Our speaker was Bill Brewer, one of last years Rotary Ambassador's who spoke on "RI's Ambassadorial Program: Focus on Australia". Bill is a graduate of Bellermine College, and is now an energy consultant in Louisville. He was in Australia from February thru December, 1994, getting an M.A. from the University of New south Wales in Sydney, a city of some 5 million people, and a student population of some 33,000 (compared to 3,000 at Bellermine). Life was good, with less air polution, they have a good public transportation system, and fewer cars. Many businessmen played athletics at lunch, since they have an hour and a half. In a cultural exchange, he taught them about Halloween costume parties, and they taught him cricket. Bill was one of 16 Rotary Ambassadors in Australia last year, and while they talked to many of the Rotary clubs in Australia. He also interned at the Parlament House of N.S.W., working for the Secretary of Health. He found it to be quite an experience. -- p.s. (If you know of anyone interested, please contact Henry Leadingham.)
