Rotary gets the names of sixty of the neediest children from Head Start and the members buy a gift (minimum $5) for that child. The child's name, gender and age will be on the slip of paper that you get. Thanks to all the Rotarians that have helped us this way in the past!!

Committees Handout

At Fireside Chats and at regular meetings as you sign in Dec. 1 and 8, copies of the 1999-2000 Frankfort Rotary Club Committees are being given to each member. The Board asks that you study these committees so that you can make an informed decision of the area where you would like to serve. More will be forthcoming in future Frankfortarians and at a future meeting.

PLEASE BE COURTEOUS TO SPEAKERS AND LISTENERS ALIKE

Sometimes member Rotarians don't realize that some of us can't hear very well and that carrying on lengthy conversations during the program interferes with the ability of others to concentrate on what the speaker may be saying.

Maybe what the speaker is saying doesn't interest you personally, but please do remember our Rotary standard: is it FAIR to all concerned? If you are bored or do not care for the program, for the BENEFIT of all concerned leave the room or quietly sit while others are listening.

We think it will "build GOODWILL and BETTER FRIENDSHIPS," at the very least. Please give it some thought.

Salvation Army Luncheon

On Wednesday, December 15 the Christmas program will be arranged by Secretary-Treasurer Clay Hulette and will bring Frankfort Rotary members to their annual luncheon with the Salvation Army Frankfort organization.

Rotarians draw names for special gifts to the children and help Santa distribute them to a special group assembled by the Salvation Army.

What Is The Salvation Army Worldwide Which Our Rotary Club Has Long Supported?

In 1865 William Booth, a Methodist preacher, founded the Christian Mission in London's East End to help feed and house the poor. The mission was reorganized in 1878 along military lines, with the preachers known as officers and Booth as the general. After this the group became known as the Salvation Army. Booth sought to bring into his worship services an informal atmosphere that would encourage new converts. Joyous singing, instrumental music, clapping of hands and an invitation to repent characterized Salvation Army meetings.

General Booth was deeply influenced by his wife Catherine Booth, who believed that women were equal to men and it was only inadequate education and social custom that made them men's intellectual inferiors. She was an inspiring speaker and helped to promote the idea of women preachers. The Salvation Army gave women equal responsibility with men for preaching and welfare work and on one occasion William Booth remarked that: "My best men are women!"

By 1882 a survey of London discovered that on one weeknight, there were almost 17,000 worshipping with the Salvation Army, compared to 11,000 in ordinary churches. Even Dr. William Thornton, the Archbishop of York, had to accept that Booth and his followers were reaching people that the Anglican Church had failed to have any impact on.

It was while working with the poor in London that Catherine Booth found out about what was known as "sweated labour". That is, women and children working long hours for low wages in very poor conditions. Catherine and fellow members of the Salvation Army attempted to shame employers into paying better wages. They also attempted to improve the working conditions of these women.

Booth's eldest son, William Branwell Booth, succeeded his father as general in 1912. His second son, Ballington Booth was the commander of the army in Australia (1883-85) and the USA (1887-96). One of his daughters, Evangeline Cora Booth, was elected general in 1934. The Salvation Army is now established in 80 countries and has 16,000 evangelical centers and operates more than 3,000 social welfare institutions, hospitals, schools and agencies.

1999 Sees New Record Set by Rotary Bell-Ringers

Frankfort Rotary Club Chair Clay Hulette reports that a combined total of $3,818.53 was raised for the Salvation Army this Holiday season, including the bell ringers who worked on Saturday, Dec. 11. The 1999 figures represent a new record for the annual club project, finally topping a previous record set in 1994.

Since 1993 the Frankfort Rotary Club has helped provide more than $22,950 to the Salvation Army helping the most needy of Frankfort's children through support of the Salvation Army's Christmas programs, Hulette reported.

A breakdown of prior years is as follows: 1998, $3,196.63; 1997, $3,163.83; 1996, $3,213.24; 1995, $3,772.65; 1994, $3,036.00; 1993, $2,752.00

The totals since 1993 include an estimated minimum amount of $5 for each of 60 children's gifts, provided annually by Frankfort Rotary members. Hulette said no record is kept of the specific value of the presents provided by the club distributed by the Salvation Army at a special party each year.

The Salvation Army each year presents a traveling trophy for the civic organization which annually does best in bell-ringing competition. Frankfort Rotary has won the trophy every year since it was created over a decade ago.

Next Week in Rotary....

We are back at the Hotel for Dec. 22 meeting.

James C. Thomas
President and CEO of Shaker Village of Pleasant Hill

The Frankfort Rotary Club program for Wednesday, Dec. 22, will feature James C. Thomas, who is president and CEO of Shaker Village of Pleasant Hill, in Mercer County. Mr. Thomas has been affiliated with Shaker Village for over 35 years. Introducing Mr. Thomas on the program will be David Clinkenbeard, who is program chair for the month of December.

Mr. Thomas was involved with the challenging restoration project from its earliest inception. Today, Shaker Village of Pleasant Hill, a national historic landmark, is the largest and most completely restored Shaker Village in the United States.

Prior to joining the restoration effort at Shaker Village, Mr. Thomas worked as the restoration manager at Locust Grove, the home of George Rogers Clark in Louisville. While there he had the opportunity to work under nationally known restoration architect Walter Macomber of Alexandria, Va.

A native of Philadelphia, Mr. Thomas moved to Louisville at the age of 15. He is a graduate of the University of Louisville and the author of two books and numerous articles on preservation. Mr. Thomas also serves as a restoration consultant and is an authority on Kentucky log homes.

Jim Thomas' duties include overseeing every aspect of the village from restoration, interpretation, education, dining, lodging, and development; as well as overseeing the 2800 acre farming operation. He currently serves on a number of boards and is a life member of the Filson Club and past president of the Kentucky Historical Society and former member of the board of advisors for the National Trust for Historic Preservation.

Mr. Thomas is married with two sons and lives on a 185-acre farm near Shaker Village.

BOARD MEETING

Monday, December 20, the Board meets at 5:00 p.m. at the downtown First Federal Bank. Any Board member not attending is to contact President Polly Jo by telephone.

"...but this time please don't let the Rotary Club get involved."

There was a little boy whose family was in desperate need. So, he decided to write a letter to God for help and $500. In his letter he explained how his dad was out of work and his mother washed neighbors' clothes for money, he mowed yards, and his younger brother was ill with no insurance.

He sealed up his letter and put it in an envelope, simply addressed to "God." When it got to the post office, the postmaster opened it and read the letter.

He was a good-hearted person and felt so badly for the family that he decided to go to his Rotary club for donations to send the family. The club was able to raise $300 for this worthy purpose. He sat down and composed a letter to the boy, noting that God asked the Rotary Club to support him and his family.

"Here is $300," the postmaster wrote the boy. The postmaster didn't really expect a thank you or a response.

But it wasn't too long afterwards that the boy wrote back to God, and when the postmaster saw the envelope and the handwriting, with which he was familiar, he was excited.

This time the boy wrote to God the $300 was very helpful but, that the family was even more desperate now than when he wrote the first letter.

"We want to request another $500," the boy wrote, "but this time please don't let the Rotary Club get involved. They take too big of a cut."

Help! Camera Persons Needed

We need two or three persons willing to be trained to videotape our meetings when Channel 10 cameraman, Dave Pike, is given another assignment on our meeting day. If we can get the volunteers, Libby Anderson of Channel 10 says she will schedule a training session to learn how to use their camera to the best advantage. Contact Dean Sorg, 319-0411(cell) or deansorg@aol.com (email).

Cable 10

Be sure to tune into Frankfort's Global Connection (Channel 10) to hear an interesting interview with Dean Sorg, Mary King, and Bill Miller on "Rotary's Ambassador in Argentina: Mary King" to be aired on Tuesday, January 11, at 7 p.m. or Wednesday, January 12, at 9 a.m.

Rotary Profile

John Norfleet was born and raised in Lexington. He graduated from Henry Clay High School, then worked his way through The University of Kentucky, receiving a degree in business administration. He served in the Army Reserve, for a time before college.

John has been a professional real estate appraiser for thirty-six years, and is a member of the Appraisal Institute. He has appraised many landmark properties including Kentucky Central Tower, Gainesway Farm, Claibourne and Golden Chance Farms, and several shopping centers and industrial properties.

He is with the Kentucky Revenue Cabinet as Principal Assistant to the Commissioner of Property Valuation.

John joined our club when Charlie Hinds was president, and had three years perfect attendance before moving from the area. He served as District Treasurer under Governor Tom Isaac. He recently joined the Frankfort Rotary Club. Welcome back John.

I've learned...

...that it isn't always enough to be forgiven by Others. Sometime you are to learn to forgive Yourself.

Mary King, Rotary Foundation Ambassadorial Scholar, is on summer break from her studies at La Plata, Argentina. Her studies conclude in July 2000. With King is fellow Rotarian Dean Sorg.

Our condolences...

... to Chris Richards and other family of fellow Rotarian Dick Richards for their loss. Dick suddenly passed away last week.
