ALDONA K. VALICENTI
Chief Information Officer
Governor's Office for Technology

In December, 1997, Aldona Valicenti, a former senior executive of the Amoco Corporation, was announced as the first Chief Information Officer for the Commonwealth of Kentucky. During 1998, Aldona defined the legislation creating and establishing the position as part of the Executive Cabinet. She has also undertaken a major transformation effort of the information technology organizational structure for the Executive Branch of state government. She has oversight for all major information technology procurements, all major systems implementations, and accountability for managing the Year 2000 efforts.

Ms. Valicenti has a BS and MS degree in scientific disciplines and began her career with the Dow Corning Corporation. There she held various staff and management positions in support of product and formulation information. She then joined Amoco Corporation and for the next 21 years held positions of increasing responsibility including:

Manager, Office Technology; Manager, Planning and Architecture; Manager, System Development and Support; Divisional CIO for the Amoco Chemical Company; and Manager, Customer Solutions Information Technology Shared Services. In December, 1997, she was appointed CIO for the Commonwealth of Kentucky by Governor Paul E. Patton.

In her career, Aldona has had the opportunity to be instrumental in business start-ups and growing existing business units, as well as restructuring and downsizing functions to remain competitive in fast paced and changing business environments. She has managed the transition of a 2000 staff organization from a decentralized information technology approach to a shared services organization performing as an autonomous $370 million business unit.

Rotary Profile

In high school Tom was a world class gymnast, being ranked in the top six nationally. He says he was preparing for the Olympic trials when he was in a car collision, sustaining a broken back. After that he turned to coaching gymnastics.

Tom has a B.S. from East Stroudsburg University; a M.S. from the University of Maryland and a Ph. D. from Florida State University. He has published several papers on subjects like; "Biomechanical Analysis of Specific Sport Skills" and "Health and Wellness Issues."

Tom is involved in many community activities when he's not carrying out his responsibilities at Kentucky State University.

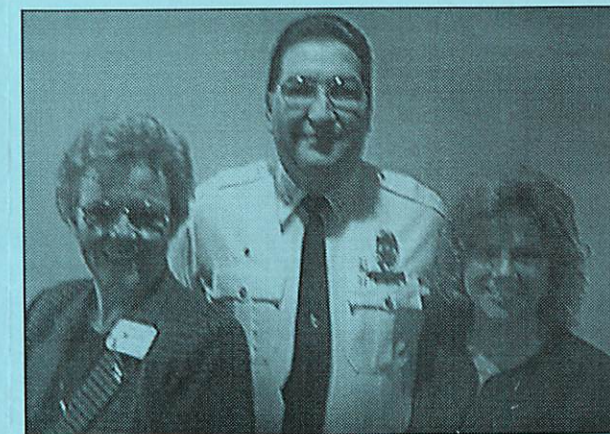

Among Tom's many accomplishments is having coached Maryland High School State Champions, in gymnastics, from 1981 to 1987. His teams finished on top nationally and produced fifty-two All-Americans a six national titles.

Tom has been a Rotarian since 1993.

Ronnie Dunn

Ronnie Dunn is a 25-year state government employee who currently serves as manager of the Employee Services Branch in the Cabinet for Families and Children. She has an undergraduate degree from the University of Louisville in business management and a graduate degree from Kentucky State University in public affairs. She will be introduced Jan. 19 by Denis King, Rotary program chair for January.

After growing up in Franklin County and graduating from Franklin Co. High School, she returned to her home county 11 years ago after living in other Kentucky communities for 23 years.

Ronnie recently completed a one-year term as vice-president of Optimist International, an organization of civic clubs that meet the needs of children in communities all over the world. She is a member of both the Frankfort Optimist and Capital City Optimist Clubs. She is also active in her church, where she teaches Sunday School and sings in the choir.

Ronnie considers her greatest accomplishment the successful implementation of the Special Friends Mentoring Program, which began in the fall of 1996. She considers her greatest blessing her six grandchildren (all boys) who range in age from 18 months to 7 years. She says her greatest challenge is convincing everyone with whom she comes in contact that children are our future and we must all work extra hard to remove the barriers that keep them from developing into healthy, happy contributing citizens who will serve as tomorrow's leaders.

Frankfort Club Lands Beran on Moldovan GSE Team

The GSE team has been selected to represent Dist. 6710 for a four-week stay in Moldova, as previously explained by Greg Fuchs, district GSE chair. Team leader for the Moldova tour will be John A. Lina, Rotary Club of Louisville. His team members will include Lisa Ann Beran, sponsored by our Frankfort Rotary.

Other team members and their sponsoring clubs are Brian C. Payne, Franklin Club; Ed Lanham Jr., Lebanon Club; and Jennifer Lane Crotchee, Louisville Club. John E. Zak, also sponsored by Frankfort Rotary, will be ready if someone already picked can't go.

Training will be taking place in a series of all-day seminars between now and their departure approximately April 25. They will return in just about one month, after visiting our district conference May 12 at Owensboro.

At the same time we can expect a 5-person team from Moldova to visit Dist. 6710 clubs for four days at a time. Bill McKinney of Louisville will be coordinating that schedule.

Just some info:

Can you imagine working at the following Company? It has a little over 500 employees with the following statistics:

- * 29 have been accused of spousal abuse
- * 7 have been arrested for fraud
- * 19 have been accused of writing bad checks
- * 117 have bankrupted at least two businesses
- * 3 have been arrested for assault
- * 71 cannot get a credit card due to bad credit
- * 14 have been arrested for shoplifting
- * 21 are current defendants in lawsuits
- * In 1998 alone, 84 were stopped for drunk driving

Can you guess which organization this is? Give up? It's the 535 members of your United States Congress. The same group that perpetually cranks out hundreds upon hundreds of new laws designed to keep the rest of us in line.

Dr. Kevin Graffagnino

Sponsored by Dr. Richard Taylor, Bio Thanks to Kelli Summers

The recently appointed Director of the Kentucky Historical Society, Dr. Kevin Graffagnino is an engaging personality. At first he seems shy and self-deprecating but upon further acquaintance it becomes apparent that here is a man who has an active sense of humor and an equally active intelligence. That's a good combination in a scholar.

His curriculum vitae describes a man who has spent his life steeped in the traditions and culture of the United States, but further reading brings some interesting points to light. Kevin holds a Ph.D. in History from the University of Massachusetts and completed his M.A. and B.A. at the University of Vermont. From 1978 to 1995 he worked his way from an entry-level position at the University of Vermont Library to Head of the Special Collections Department. At the same time he went from Instructor to Professor within the faculty. Going back a little further in his past reveals a fascinating key to Dr. Graffagnino's personality.

From 1972 to 1977 he was an entrepreneur. He worked his way through undergraduate school as proprietor of his own business, J.K. Graffagnino, Books. The interest in antiquarian books that had always been his passion was turned into the first profitable step of a career in research, education and North American history and culture. His love of books continues today and is reflected in his addiction to reading. Any bibliophile will recognize the behavior of another book-lover who reads simply for pleasure, instead of for business or study.

From 1989 to 1995 Kevin served on the Board of Directors of the Ethan Allen Homestead and since 1987 he has been on the Board of Directors of the Lake Champlain Maritime Museum. Both designations underscore his commitment to the careful preservation of the past and the education of future generations.

Kevin's most recent position was that of Library Director for the State Historical Society of Wisconsin, where he oversaw a $2.5m budget and a collection of 3.6 million printed items in North American history. His tenure in Wisconsin was highlighted by the fact that there he worked with and for his mentor and friend, Dr. H. Nicholas Muller, who is now the CEO of the Frank Lloyd Wright Foundation.

Obviously, Dr. Graffagnino comes to the Kentucky Historical Society at a critical time in the Society's history. The quality of the facility and staff at the new Kentucky History Center has propelled the Commonwealth to the forefront of the public's consciousness of culture and tradition. It is his privilege and responsibility to ensure that the Society and the general public appreciate, support and benefit from the Kentucky History Center. "I see the new Kentucky History Center as an important part of the Kentucky Historical Society," Dr. Graffagnino said. "The Society's mission is to work with people to preserve, disseminate and publicize the distinctive heritage of the Commonwealth and to collaborate rather than compete with the private and public sectors on initiatives to advance that goal."

More personal conversations reveal that Kevin has a wonderfully supportive wife, Leslie. His favorite color is blue and his favorite book is All the King's Men, appropriately enough, by one of Kentucky's favorite sons, Robert Penn Warren.

These are exciting times for the Kentucky Historical Society. The Society is fortunate to have a new director with vision, intelligence and the experience necessary to lead the Society into the next millennium.

"I find the great thing in this world is not so much where we stand, as in what direction we are moving. To reach the port of heaven, we must sail sometimes with the wind and sometimes against it... but we must sail, and not drift, nor lie at anchor."

— Oliver Wendell Holmes

Updates...

Don Armstrong is improving each day and expresses his sincere thanks for the cards and email. He does request that we refrain from calling or visiting as he needs the quiet and peace in his healing process. Keep him in your thoughts and prayers, also. Email: dandymame@aol.com.

Paula Miller, President-Elect Bill's wife, had major surgery the 25th and should return home on the 27th. Cards and email would be appreciated. Email: millerKYun@aol.com

René Siria had knee surgery Jan. 20 and is improving each day. Her email address is oxford77@aol.com.

If you know of any fellow Rotarian or spouse who is in the hospital or has had out-patient surgery, please keep us informed so we can keep them in our prayers, thoughts, email, and send cards. Thanks.
