Next Week's Program...

Speech Contest Scheduled Feb. 14

The local competition for the District 6710 speech contest will be the club program for Feb. 14. Chair of the speech contest event is Rotarian Chuck Ellestad. The function is a part of the Avenue of Vocational Service headed by Don Dykman.

This year's speech contest topic is the Rotary International theme, "Rotary 2001—Create Awareness, Take Action." Each contestant will be judged on the delivery (without notes) of a speech, of his or her own composition, from 5-8 minutes in length. Each speech will be rated by judges chosen from the members of our club on the basis of delivery, originality and content.

There are three young persons entered, one from each high school in Franklin County: Erik Garrison from Frankfort High, Anne Raff from Franklin County, and Ryan Grogan from Western Hills, all of whom are excellent students.

The winner of the local contest will receive a $100 Savings Bond, and will qualify to participate in the area run-off scheduled for the following evening, sponsored by the Rotary Club of Springfield, Ky.

This year's local judges will be Don Armstrong, Bobbye Brown and Richard Taylor, with Sara Dent serving as alternate. Volunteer tellers and timekeepers will also be needed, so Rotarians who can "add" and "keep time" may be asked to help.

In addition, Ellestad says he hopes members will be available to provide transportation for these students to and from the meeting. If you can help please call Chuck Ellestad at one of the following numbers, 223-0557 (w) or 695-7024 (h).

Rotarians are asked to be aware of the requirement to keep to a fairly tight time schedule in the contest, to allow enough time for these presentations, and to be fair to all contestants. Any Rotarian who must arrive late, or must leave early, is asked to take special care to be as quiet and courteous as possible.

Opening Exercises. . . . . Wallace Kent

These Week's Speaker:

Jody A. Lassiter

Today's guest speaker was Jody Lassiter, Commissioner of the Department of Local Government (DLG) in the office of Governor Paul Patton.

Jody is a 32-year-old native of Alamo, KY, and is the youngest commissioner to ever hold that office. Commissioner Lassiter spoke today on the composition and responsibilities of the Department of Local Government.

The mission of DLG is to provide services and technical assistance to local government within the Commonwealth. The department offers assistance in obtaining federal and state monies for the funding of various projects. These projects provide for construction and improvement of low-income housing, recreational facilities, public facilities and economic development.

The Department of Local Government is made up of four divisions: Support Services, Training and ADD Services, Community Development, and Financial Services.

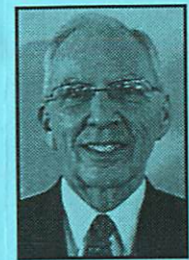

Jody said that it is a real honor to serve Kentuckians as the Commissioner of DLG, and to be able to partner state government with the local communities. He is looking forward to serving local communities and to bridge the gap between local government and the new economy. He wants to enhance the quality of life in Kentucky and to promote community development. Jody stressed the importance of citizens communicating with their local officials, and to be a part of the community. He stated that citizens should always let local leaders know what they want.

Happy Birthday to the following Rotarians who will celebrate their Birthdays in February: John Callaway, Tony Charters, William Elam, Simmie King, Shirrell Smith, Tom Utterback, Dave Weller, and Ann Wingrove.

Next Week's Program...

MARY ANN GORKSI PRESENTS ROTARY PROGRAM FEB. 21

The Frankfort Rotary Club program speaker for Wednesday, Feb. 21, is Mary Ann Gorksi. She is a scholar of the Bahá'í Faith and world traveler of great experience, having lived in Israel and Peru and having visited 16 other countries on four continents. The program will be introduced by Rotarian Eric Brooks, curator of Liberty Hall, in keeping with the February international affairs theme of Rotary International.

Ms. Gorksi will speak to the club about her experiences living for 16 years in Haifa, Israel, as a staff member at the Bahá'í World Center and more specifically address the current situation in Israel and the Middle East and her views on it and its effects. She will use her long residency in the area to give a unique and firsthand perspective concerning this increasingly volatile and important region.

Frankfort Rotary Program For Feb. 28
Features International Students At KSU

The format of Frankfort Rotary's program for Wednesday, Feb. 28, has become an annual presentation involving several Kentucky State University foreign students. The guest presenters will share their individual thoughts on careers, their homes and general opinions about life, their knowledge of Rotary International and the world around them. They will make their presentations and have already said they will especially enjoy the questions asked of them.

The four students obviously have cultural backgrounds, choices of major subjects and plans for life which differ widely. They share a common interest in being prepared and focusing on a challenging education for life preparation and careers which will be both personally and financially rewarding.

KSU Professor Jim Graves says that each of the students works hard "to be the very best in what they do." Graves, a past president of Frankfort Rotary and general Rotary program chair for the last several years, will emcee the program and introduce the students as they appear before the Club. Rotarian Jim says each of the students is anxious to speak at Rotary and to meet the members of the organization.

*To All To Whom These Presents Shall Come,
Greetings:*

Know ye that the Frankfort Rotary Club and Rotary International

are hereby recognized and honored for their outstanding humanitarian initiative to abolish polio through the PolioPlus Program. Members of the Frankfort Rotary Club, Rotary clubs in Kentucky and Rotary's 1.2 million members in over 28,000 clubs worldwide, in cooperation with the United Nations World Health Organization, the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and the United Nations Children's Fund, have graciously contributed over $340 million to abolish this scourge disease from the face of the earth. The success of this program is quite evidenced by the prevention of over 500,000 cases of polio each year. The members of the Frankfort Rotary Club and Rotary International are commended for their heroic efforts to create a safer, illness-free world for all its inhabitants, and, on the motion of Senator Marshall Long, are hereby deemed by this honorable body most worthy of its recognition.

Frankfortarian

ROTARY CLUB
FRANKFORT, KENTUCKY

DISTRICT 6710 • CLUB NO. 1295 • ORGANIZED DECEMBER 1922

Service Above Self

VOL. NO. XXVI                      ISSUE NO. 9

February 28, 2001

Next Week's Program...

“Man and Modern Media”

Frank Ashley, former press secretary to two governors and former Courier-Journal reporter and editor, will be the 11:45 a.m. luncheon speaker on March 7 at Frankfort Rotary Club at the Holiday Inn. He will be introduced by Christine Richards.

Ashley, who now heads his own communications company, Ashley Media Company/AMC, has been involved in media relations in one way or another since coming to Frankfort as part of the Gov. Breathitt Administration upon graduating from Western Kentucky University in 1965.

Many of you may remember him as a young reporter for the Frankfort State Journal back in 1967-68. In 1969, he moved to the Courier-Journal in Louisville where he covered state and local government and rose to become political editor, with his own political column. In 1980, he became press secretary for Gov. John Y. Brown, Jr., but left that job after two years to become head of worldwide communications for the late Dr. Armand Hammer, chairman of Occidental Petroleum Corporation in Los Angeles.

From Los Angeles, he covered the world, traveling extensively and continuously to China, Russia, the Middle East and South America. Finally, in 1990 he came home, once again to be the governor's press secretary to Gov. Brereton Jones.

He headed public affairs for the state's two largest advertising agencies before founding his own company. He specialized in corporate and crisis communications, and because of his extensive background and unique experiences, is considered one of the nation's top experts on his subject today, “Man and Modern Media.”

News Info...

In the world-wide publication distributed to perhaps more than one million members, “The Rotarian” magazine of Rotary International, has an article highlighting Bill Miller’s “Frankfort’s Global Connection” cable TV program. The RI article is on working with the electronic media to disseminate your message. (See page 46, March Issue).

Cool Quotes...

He who sacrifices his conscience to ambition burns a picture to obtain the ashes. -Chinese Proverb

Buying books would be a good thing if one could also buy the time to read them in: but as a rule the purchase of books is mistaken for the appropriation of their contents. -Arthur Schopenhauer, philosopher (1788-1860)

Too many have dispensed with generosity in order to practice charity. -Albert Camus, writer and philosopher (1913-1960)

Perhaps the greatest social service that can be rendered by anybody to the country and to mankind is to bring up a family. -George Bernard Shaw, dramatist, critic, novelist, and Nobel laureate (1856-1950)

Spoon feeding in the long run teaches us nothing but the shape of the spoon. -E.M. Forster

It is the mark of the educated mind to be able to entertain a thought without accepting it. -Aristotle

Those who bring sunshine to the lives of others cannot keep it from themselves. -James Barrie

The man who does not work for the love of work but only for money is not likely to make money nor find much fun in life. -Charles M. Schwab as members representing this notable organization gather to witness a day of Regular Session of the 2001 Kentucky General Assembly. Further, this extraordinary organization is afforded the deepest gratitude for their immense and valuable work to develop and support the PolioPlus Program, a humanitarian effort which, in cooperation with the United Nations World Health Organization, the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and the United Nations Children's Fund, seeks to eliminate the terrible disease, polio. The success of this program is demonstrated through the prevention of over 500,000 cases of polio each year. The members of this august body are pleased to join Representative Gippy Graham, Representative Joe Barrows and Representative Jack L. Coleman in applauding the extraordinary work of the Rotary Club and in extending to them sincere welcome to the Chambers of the Kentucky House of Representatives.

Done in Frankfort, Kentucky, this twentieth day of February, in the year two thousand and one.
