Next Week's Speaker...

Kathleen Lattanzi, the principal at Good Shepherd School in Frankfort, will be the speaker for Frankfort Rotary on Wednesday, Jan. 8. Mrs. Lattanzi is the second speaker in a month-long series which will feature various educational programs in Frankfort and Franklin County. She will be introduced by Ann Maenza, Rotary program chair for the month.

When asked how long she's been in the education field, Kathy Lattanzi laughs and says she has been in school either as a student or a teacher or administrator since she started kindergarten. (And she's not telling how many years that is!)

She has been a teacher both in public and private schools in Ohio, New York, Michigan, Illinois and California — so many places because of her husband's job.

Before moving to Frankfort, Lattanzi was a principal in the Diocese of Youngstown, Ohio. She is now in her fifth year as principal at Good Shepherd. She is married to Art Lattanzi, and they have two children.

This Week's Speaker

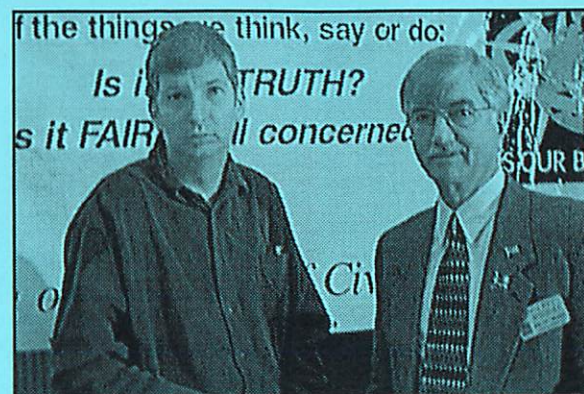

The speaker for the day was Robert Roach, Jr. who is in his fourth year as Headmaster at the Christian Academy. There are 186 students presently enrolled which goes from preschool through grade eight. There will be about 250 students enrolled this fall. The capital campaign is to be completed this May. A regional Christian high school is in the works which should open in the fall of 2003. The motto for the school is "Educating for Eternity." The focus is on Jesus Christ, and the school relies heavily on volunteers. The Board decisions are unanimous and the teachers and Board members believe they have been called by God. The curriculum is taught from a Christian perspective and the focus is on Christian principles. The students have a high level of achievement. There is a sense of community at the school and the culture of the school promotes success. There is a very low teacher-to-student ratio, with 20:1 being the maximum.

Happy Birthday!

Salvation Army Drive Reaches Nearly $5,000

President Terry Shockley announced at the Wednesday, Jan. 2 meeting that the total collections for the Salvation Army Christmas drive had officially reached $4,301.59. In addition an estimated $600 worth of Christmas gifts have been distributed to youngsters by Frankfort Rotarians, bringing the year's effort to almost $5,000. Figures were obtained by Clay Hulette, who heads up the Salvation Army effort. On the receiving end is Capt. Jason Swain, who heads the Salvation Army in Frankfort.

Eric Brooks Is Rotarian Of The Month For December 2001

President Shockley announced that the Rotarian of the Month for December is Eric Brooks, which is the "good news." The bad news is that we are losing Eric to Lexington because of a job change. Brooks headed the Salvation Army bell ringers in December and has hosted the orientation sessions for new members for the past several years.

International Dinner Feb. 28 Features Bill Samuels

Beth Johnson announced that the annual International Dinner will be held Thursday, Feb. 28, at Frankfort Country Club. The cost is $20 per person, and reservations can be made through Charles Hinds or Joe Russell Johnson. The featured speaker for this year's dinner will be the well-known distiller, Bill Samuels, who has learned about international marketing through his signature product, Maker's Mark bourbon, made at Loretto, Ky.

Next Week in Rotary...

Mary Anna Rogers, a 13-year home school veteran, will be the speaker at Frankfort Rotary Wednesday, Jan. 16. Mrs. Rogers is the third speaker in the January series which features various educational programs in Frankfort and Franklin County. She will be introduced by Ann Maenza, Rotary program chair for the month.

Mrs. Rogers has been a board member of the Kentucky Home Education Association, a statewide support group, for three years. She is currently serving as vice-president. She was president of the Capital Area Christian Homeschoolers for five years. She is also a former classroom teacher at the junior high, high school and college levels.

Rogers is a lifelong Frankfort resident and a graduate of Frankfort High School and the University of Southern Mississippi. She is married to John Rogers, owner of Rogers Funeral Home, and they have three daughters.

This Week's Speaker

Rotarians were delighted to have Kathleen Lattanzi, principal of Good Shepherd School in Frankfort as today's guest speaker. She is the second guest of the month to inform us on a facet of education in Frankfort/Franklin County.

In her career as an educator, Lattanzi has taught in both private and public schools. She has taught in California, Illinois, Michigan, Ohio, New York, and is in her fifth year as principal of Good Shepherd. Lattanzi gave Rotarians a history of Good Shepherd School. She noted that the school had its beginnings in 1870 under the direction of the Sisters of Charity. Many prominent residents of Frankfort received their education at Good Shepherd. The school presently has an academic program for kindergarten through eighth grade. Good Shepherd presently has an enrollment of 340 students. This is the highest number in the institution's history. Although the school is a Catholic institution, one third of the student body comes from non-Catholic backgrounds. Half of the teachers are non-Catholic. Lattanzi stated that Good Shepherd is a fully accredited school with a staff that has some 275 years of combined teaching experience.

Lattanzi is married to Art Lattanzi. The couple has two children.

Jan. 23 Will Feature Stephen Austin, Bluegrass Tomorrow

The Frankfort Rotary program for Wednesday, Jan. 23, will be about Bluegrass Tomorrow, presented by Stephen D. Austin. He will be introduced by Ann Maenza, program chair for January.

Stephen D. Austin is president and CEO of Bluegrass Tomorrow, a private, non-profit regional planning organization for the Lexington metropolitan area. Steve was formerly director of planning for the Georgetown-Scott County Planning Commission, whose tenure included the arrival of Toyota. The community's 1991 Comprehensive Plan received the Highest Honors Award from the Kentucky Chapter of the American Planning Association.

Bluegrass Tomorrow was formed in 1989 by a coalition of business and conservation interests to promote coordinated growth planning for the seven county central Bluegrass Region of Kentucky. The guiding framework for the organization is the Bluegrass Regional vision, developed in 1993 through a broad-based regional planning process. Bluegrass Tomorrow promotes an alternative regional approach to planning that balances the need for growth with the preservation of the unique scenic and natural features that characterize the Bluegrass.

This Week's Speaker...

The guest speaker for this week's Rotary Program was Mary Anna Rogers, a 13-year home-school veteran. Mary Anna is a Frankfort native. She attended Frankfort High School, and is a graduate of the University of Southern Mississippi. She is currently Vice-President of the Kentucky Home Education Association, and past president of the Capital Area Christian Homeschoolers.

Mary Anna presented the club with an overview of the home schooling program and its advantages. She stated that it is not for everyone, and families that participate have to make many sacrifices. Some of the advantages of home schooling are: (1) It maintains and stimulates a child's desire to learn and explore, (2) It is self-pacing: that is, each child learns at their own speed, (3) Parents get to know their child's learning styles, (4) There is no set schedule, families can be flexible, (5) All ages interact together, and (6) There are unlimited educational sources.

If you would like to know more about the Home schooling Program, please contact Mary Anna Rogers.

Youth Foundation Announces College Scholarships

The Frankfort Rotary Club's Youth Foundation has announced the availability of college scholarships for high school seniors and graduating juniors. The club will award each of three $1,500 scholarship to an applicant from each of the area's three high schools, Frankfort High, Western Hills, and Franklin County.

Scholarship applications are available from each school's guidance counselor and will be judged based upon financial need, community service and academic achievement. The Club will also award one matching $500 scholarship for a graduating student enrolling at Kentucky State University in the fall.

Two $750 Vocational/Technical/Business scholarships will also be awarded. The Frankfort Rotary Club is also participating in Kentucky Rotary District 6710's annual $1,500 scholarship program.

Applications for the academic excellence scholarship may be obtained from the area's high school guidance counselors. Students applying for this scholarship must use the scholarship to attend a Kentucky college or university.

One applicant will be selected by the club and forwarded to the Rotary District for final competition. Applications are due in by February 1, 2002. If you have any questions please contact Bob Johnson at 695-3725.

Rotary Board Meeting

The monthly board meeting will be Monday, January 21 at 5:30 p.m. at the RB Brown building on Louisville Road.

Board Action on Jan. 16, 2002

The board voted and approved on January 16, 2002 meeting and approved the following for Rotary membership contingent upon no negative response after publication in the newsletter: Christina Harrison, Robert Roach, Jr., Jim Shepherd and Phillip Shepherd

Frankfort Rotary Youth Fund Applications

Applications are now available. Please call or contact Bob Johnston at 695-3725. Applications are due in by February 1, 2002.

RI Catalog Goes Online

Rotarians can now order publications, videos, membership items, and other materials directly from the Rotary Web site. Online orders will require credit card payment and be processed within two days of receipt. RI materials will still be available from the print catalog or via your Rotary International office. However, to ensure sufficient warehouse stock and maintain efficient service, all orders will require pre-payment via personal check or credit card. In the United States order can be placed by telephone: 847/866-4600 or fax: 847/866-3276.

Directory Corrections

Any Rotarian who has corrections to the July 2002 Directory and did not get those corrections made at the Jan. 9th or 16th meetings, please telephone (223-3548) or email (bobpollyg@aol.com) to Polly Jo ASAP.

Martha Jones to Speak at Rotary on Jan. 30

Capital Day School is the topic for Wednesday's program. We will learn of Capital Day's history and growth from Headmistress Martha Jones. Ms. Jones came to Capital Day seven years ago. She previously taught French and English at Sayre School in Lexington.

Three current eighth graders from CDS will also be on hand to give you a student's perspective of life at Capital Day School. Erin Overstreet will discuss CDS academics. Erin has attended Capital Day since kindergarten. She is the daughter of Mark and Nancy Overstreet. Casey Ekers, the daughter of Tom and Patsy Ekers, will review the Fine Arts Program. Casey has attended CDS for four years. Houston Hardy, the son of Rob and Lisbon Hardy, will talk about athletics and extra-curricular activities. Houston has been a Capital Day student since pre-kindergarten.

District Speech Contest

The district speech competition begins this Wednesday, Feb. 6, with a local competition among contestants from the high schools of Frankfort and Franklin County. In overall charge of these efforts will be Rotarians Chuck Ellestad, assisted by Jim Wallace. The club program this week will be the contest speeches.

"Mankind is Our Business" is the theme of Rotary International this year and the subject assigned to each speaker in the contest soon to be underway. Presenters will each deliver a talk five to eight minutes in length, and they are required to address the international theme as assigned.

Entrants in the club contest are: Colin Overstreet, Franklin County High School; Becky Schneider, Frankfort High School; and Elizabeth Hinson, Frankfort High School.

First place will entitle the winner to a $100 U.S. savings bond. Our winner will progress to the next levels of competition, the Area, Region and District (6710).

Rotarians recruited for contest jobs include Joe Russell Johnson, timer; Bobbye Brown, Joe Rudder and Richard Taylor, judges, and Jim Wolcott as tellers, each of whom will assist on Feb. 6.

This Week's Speaker

Rotarians enjoyed an excellent program on Capital Day School. Martha Jones, Headmistress of the school gave an overview of the history of the institution. Founded in 1955, Capital Day School as an enrollment of over 180 students. The student/teacher ratio was cited as one of the outstanding features of this private educational facility. Jones came to Capital Day seven years ago from Sayre School in Lexington where she taught English and French.

An added highlight of the presentation on Capital Day came from three of the school's current eight graders. Erin Overstreet, daughter of Mark and Nancy Overstreet gave an informative look at the academic programs of Capital Day. She was followed by Huston Hardy, the son of Rob and Lisbon Hardy. Huston spoke about the athletic programs of the school. The third student to speak was Casey Ekers, the daughter of Tom and Patsy Ekers. Casey's topic was the fine arts program at Capital

Day. These young people were excellent examples of the caliber of students at the school. They, and their teachers are to be commended for their dedication to education.

World Community Service Meeting

Junior Achievement Classes Scheduled For Spring Semester

Vocational Service Director Tom Fugate reported Wednesday on several current projects now being sponsored by vocational service committees. One of the areas getting underway in vocational service is the Junior Achievement program, which is being chaired by Rotarian Terry Barnes. Already organized are 11 classes set to get started at Franklin County High this spring. Another seven classes have been scheduled at Frankfort High School, all arranged under the JA program.

Fugate also said sign-up rosters are being circulated for Rotarians to enroll for the "shadowing" program, to be scheduled in proximity to Ground Hog Day in February.

Shadowing Program Announced

It is that time again! The Frankfort Rotary Club will be conducting its annual shadowing program with area high schools and we need your help.

As you know, one of the continuing goals of the Frankfort Rotary Club is to reach out to young people in our community. One such way is to introduce students from area High Schools to local business and professional leaders. This year's shadowing program hopes to match a professional with a student from each of our three high schools. Of course, the success of this endeavor will depend on the number of business and professional leaders I can secure to sponsor a student for the day and the number of students who are interested in such an opportunity.

Last year, seven Rotary members agreed to sponsor a student who spent the day shadowing their every move and we hope that more members will step forward and agree to participate this year. Our plan is to first recruit as many Rotary members as possible and then approach the school counselors and then begin the process of matching students.

If you would like to participate or if you have any questions or concerns, please feel free to contact Tom Fugate at: tom.fugate@mail.state.ky.us or call 502-564-7005 ex:126 or 502-695-0102. Thank you!!

Scholarship Applicants Sought

The Frankfort Rotary club seeks applicants for the highly regarded Rotary Foundation Ambassadorial Scholarship. Up to four individuals will be awarded scholarships worth up to $25,000 each that include travel expenses for 9 months of study outside the United States during the 2003-2004 academic year. Several may be nominated from each club.

Application forms do describe several scholarship choices. This District Rotary Foundation Committee is offering only the more popular
