Next Week's Meeting...

Glenna Foster Fletcher, First Lady of Kentucky, grew up in Lexington, KY. She met her husband, Governor Ernie Fletcher, while both were students at Lafayette High School. The couple married while she was attending Transylvania University and he was studying at the University of Kentucky. While in school, she worked as a medical transcriptionist which sparked her passion for a career in health care.

In 1998, she partnered with her husband as he moved from the Kentucky House of Representatives to the United States Congress. Then in December of 2003, she began yet another chapter in her life when her husband became the Governor of Kentucky.

As First Lady, she is devoting her time to encouraging and promoting healthier life-styles for all Kentuckians. Improving the health of Kentuckians, primarily children, is one of Mrs. Fletcher's main focuses. She serves as special advisor to the Get Healthy Kentucky! initiative. This initiative was created to address the health issues facing citizens across the Commonwealth such as heart disease, obesity, asthma, lung cancer and diabetes.

This Week's Speaker...

The speaker for the day was Tim Hodge, who works with the Special Needs Adoption Program (SNAP) for the Cabinet for Children and Family Services. He helps to recruit families to adopt hard-to-place children who sometimes have physical or mental disabilities. Tim walked the Club through the adoption process which begins after the termination of parental rights, when the child is available for adoption. The SNAP program was begun in 1979 and today has six workers and 400 children statewide. The state is roughly divided in half between Louisville and Lexington offices. He also works with families from other states, but most adoptions are primarily in-state. For a complete summary of Tim Hodge's remarks, please visit the Club web site: <http://www.frankfortrotary.org>.

Joe Johnson poses with members of the Bridgeport Elementary fifth-grade class with UNICEF boxes as he explained that polio still exists in the world and that money collected from the Trick-or-Treat for UNICEF program goes directly to the Polioplus fund to eliminate polio and other childhood diseases. When the Rotary Polioplus program eliminates polio, each year it will save 50,000 children's lives, hundreds of thousands more will not be afflicted, American taxpayers will save $350 million, and worldwide taxpayers will save $1.5 billion. UNICEF says all money collected from now through October will be spent on the Polioplus program. The Frankfort Rotary Club requests that schools, churches and businesses participate in this program.

Billie Travis has traveled many miles and addressed many future educators since being named the 2005 Kentucky Teacher of the Year. Travis was the first of her family to get a chance of a college degree. She didn't have it easy. Like many students, she had to work but always knew that she wanted to teach. And after 25 years, she still loves her job. After obtaining her teaching degree from MSU, Travis went back to her home county to begin her education career. For the past 23 years, she has been shaping student's lives at GMS.

Active in various professional organizations, she holds education memberships in The National Council of Teachers of Mathematics, the Kentucky Council of Teachers of Mathematics, and the National Middle School Association. Travis was regional board director for the Kentucky Middle School Association and has been named to Who's Who Among America's Teachers and is a past recipient of the Ashland Inc. Golden Apple Achievement Award.

Visit our website: www.frankfort-rotary.org for an electronic version of the Frankfortarian. The August 17 Calender will contain our speaker's profile and full remarks.

Rotary Profile

Jim Richardson was born and raised in Frankfort. He graduated from Frankfort High School where he played varsity football and was a member of the speech team. Jim's college education covered a lot of territory, including UK, Transylvania, University of Dayton, Sophia University-Tokyo, University of Maryland-Far East, University of Maryland-Europe, Community College of The Air Force and Kentucky State. Most of his college time was accumulated during his twenty-one years in the United States Air Force. He retired as a Master/Sgt. During Jim's military career he served five years in England, two-plus years in Japan as well as time in Thailand, Vietnam, and the Philippines. He flew across the Pacific six times in a C-123. His most notable flight was in the front seat of a ten-ton truck. Jim has been a Rotarian for twenty-one years and served as president 1995-96 and Sgt. of Arms for five years. He served as Post Commander of the VFW, Sister Cities program, Chairman of the renovation project to the Kentucky Veterans War Memorial as well as a number of other service projects. Something you might not know about this guy; he opens the gates at the Frankfort Cemetery every morning, early, and closes every night after dark. That's as confining a job as running a dairy farm! Jim, with help of his wife Pat, is manager of the Frankfort Cemetery. If you want to know anything about local history he's the person to ask.

Nancy Newberry, Dept. of Education

Mrs. Newberry works in the Division of Early Childhood Development in the Kentucky Department of Education as a Branch Manager. In this role, she works with policy and program development in the Early Childhood Initiative, KIDS NOW.

In 2000 the General Assembly unanimously passed historic early childhood legislation, know as KIDS NOW (Kentucky Invests In Developing Success). The KIDS NOW early childhood initiative strives to support families within communities so each child reaches their fullest potential. Component parts of the KIDS NOW initiative include assuring maternal and child health, supporting families, enhancing early care and education, and building the support structure.

Mrs. Newberry has been involved in the field of early childhood development and education for almost three decades. She began her career teaching in an Ohio public school program where she trained students to work in early childhood settings and directed a laboratory classroom.

A Kentuckian since 1976, Mrs. Newberry has had varied opportunities in both the public and private sector. Her career has included teaching in early childhood settings including child care and public school, providing early intervention for children with disabilities in home based programs, directing a program serving infants through kindergarten, training early childhood professionals, and providing technical assistance to early childhood programs. She holds a Masters Degree from Ohio University and has done additional graduate work in early childhood special education. The last ten years of her career have been at the state level in early childhood public policy and program development in several capacities.

Thoughts & Prayers

Our thoughts and prayers go out to fellow Rotarian Jim Graves who is recuperating from surgery earlier this week.

Board Action

The board approved new member Kent Whitworth contingent upon no negative feedback after publication in the newsletter.

Club Action

In a special called meeting of the Club, unanimous approval was given to the nomination of Barry Holder, Sr. as a candidate for Director, Rotary Zone 30. The Director will be elected from among those eligible candidates at the 2006 Convention of Rotary International in Copenhagen. The elected Director will serve on the Board of Directors of Rotary International in 2007-2009. Congratulations and good luck Barry as you go through this process.

This Week's Speaker...

2005 Kentucky Teacher of the Year, Billie Travis, spoke on the importance of citizens' and civic groups' involvement in the public schools. A math teacher at Georgetown Middle School and a graduate of the Scott County School system and Morehead State University, Ms. Travis credits her choice of professions to being taught well as a student, by both her teachers and other adults, especially her parents.

Billie said that the 40,000 teachers in Kentucky need outside resources. She urged Rotarians to become adoptive parents, grandparents, participants in reading and tutoring programs, etc. She emphasized that a child's education doesn't end when he or she leaves the classroom. Children need community support and exposure to good role models outside as well as inside the classroom.

Our Literacy Program book of the week donation will be made to the library of Elkhorn Elementary School in honor of Mrs. Travis.

For a complete summary of Billie Travis's remarks, please visit the Club web site: <http://www.frankfort-rotary.org> and view the August 24 Calendar.

Rotary Profile

Rotarian Chuck Dickinson was born and raised in Milwaukee, Wisconsin and graduated from Coster High School. While in high school he excelled in tennis, swimming and the school band. He won't "own up" to what instrument he played but it was bigger than a breadbox.

Chuck was graduated from the University of Illinois with a degree in Ceramic Engineering. How he got to Frankfort is a mystery, but here he is and what he does is act as Maintenance Supervisor for Jim Beam Distillery. He has been active in the community with Habitat for Humanity, the mentoring program and the Experimental Aircraft Society.

Chuck spent a number of years building an experimental airplane in his garage and now flies it about the country with his wife, Diane, as passenger. While the aircraft was being assembled his friends cautioned him to bring it out in the open before attaching the wings. It seems he once put a propeller on backwards, so he can make a mistake now and then.

Crit Luallen was elected the Commonwealth of Kentucky's 47th Auditor of Public Accounts in November of 2003. Ms. Luallen won statewide office on her first foray into elective politics after a distinguished career in public service. Luallen also served as State Budget Director,

Secretary of the Finance and Administration Cabinet, Secretary of the Kentucky Tourism Cabinet, Commissioner of the Kentucky Department of the Arts, and Special Assistant to the Governor. She also spent four years in Louisville and served as President of the Greater Louisville Economic Development Partnership, a regional economic development agency. In 2001 Luallen was awarded the National Excellence in Leadership Award by Women Executives in State Government. She played a key role in developing and securing passage of the historic Higher Education Reforms of 1997 and the Early Childhood Development initiative. Ms. Luallen chaired EMPOWER Kentucky, a government efficiency initiative that produced savings to Kentucky taxpayers of $600 million. In response to allegations of wrongdoing in the Transportation Cabinet, Ms. Luallen spearheaded the creation of an Office of Inspector General. Ms. Luallen also played a leadership role in developing the Governor's School for the Arts, the Kentucky Information Highway, the Kentucky History Center, the Northern Kentucky Convention Center, and the expansion of the Commonwealth Convention Center in Louisville. Luallen is a native of Frankfort, a graduate of Centre College where she serves on the Board of Trustees and is married to Lynn Luallen, retired CEO of the Kentucky Housing Corporation and current president of The Louisville Housing Partnership.

This Week's Speaker...

The speaker for the day was Nancy Newberry who works in the Division of Early Childhood Development in the Kentucky Department of Education as a Branch Manager. In this role, she works with policy and program development in the Early Childhood Initiative, KIDS NOW. The goal of the program is to improve the educational background of those working with small children. Unfortunately Kentucky ranks poorly in various factors determining children's well-being. These factors are: (1) Percentage of low weight babies; (2) Infant mortality which in Kentucky fairs worse than the national average; (3) Teens dropping out of school; (4) Teens not in school and not working; (5) No parent working year around; (6) Households in with children in poverty; and, (7) single parent households. For a complete summary of Nancy Newberry's remarks, please visit the Club web site: <http://www.frankfort-rotary.org> and view the August 31 Calendar.

This week's Literacy Program Book donation was made to Hearn Elementary in honor Ms. Newberry's presentation.

Rotary Profile

Rotarian, Lee Troutwine was born and raised in Franklin County. He says, "I was born in the old Kings Daughters Hospital and lived to tell about it." Lee is a graduate of the old Elkhorn High School where he played in the band. At one time he was an accomplished trombone player. He went on to UK where he was a member of the "Marching 100", an all male band under the direction of the great Warren Lutz. On game day, the band always entered the field playing "Dixie." He also studied at George Washington University and Kentucky State College. Lee served four years in the US Navy. He was a crew member aboard the destroyer USS Fred B. Royal during the Cuban blockade. He has been involved in many civic organizations including, President Downtown Frankfort Inc., Sister Cities Association, President Elkhorn Landowners Association, past President of the Frankfort Rotary Club, just to name a few.
