Next Week's Speaker...

As a director Nell Cox is known for her award-winning PBS dramas, including "Ghostwriter" (pilot for Children's Television Workshop series), "The Roommate," "Konrad," and a women's western, "Liza's Pioneer Diary," which she also produced and wrote. She lived in Los Angeles for a number of years where she directed many prime-time dramas including "M*A*S*H," "Lou Grant," "The Waltons" and "L.A. Law." While in Los Angeles she also wrote a number of feature film screenplays.

Nell Cox started her career in films in New York as a documentary film editor for Time-Life Broadcast, which aired their documentaries on ABC television in prime time. She worked with now legendary documentary filmmakers Bob Drew, Richard Leacock, Al and David Maysles and Don Pennebaker as they were re-inventing the documentary form with cinema verite. Subsequently she produced and directed numerous award winning documentaries for her own company, Nell Cox Films, Inc.

In the 1990s she returned from Los Angeles to New York to direct a feature film "Hudson River Blues," a romantic comedy that takes place in and around New York.

She now lives in Kentucky with return trips for work and to see her daughter, Rebecca Averill Losick. In recent years she has returned to her non-fiction roots directing a "Great Performances" (PBS) about the Broadway musical "Jelly's Last Jam," a portrait of the jazz great Jelly Roll Morton, and a PBS biography of Pulitzer prizewinning Kentucky playwright Marsha Norman. In the last few years she completed several documentaries in her home state of Kentucky which ran on KET-TV: "Liberty Hall," an historical documentary about John Brown one of Kentucky's founding fathers; "Statecraft," a one-hour cinema verite, fly on-the-wall documentary about the Kentucky Legislature; and "Sweet Tooth," a film about children's dental care in Appalachia.

Board Action

Attending: John Avent, Nancy Edwards, Charles Geveden, Doug Howard, Sallie Lanham, Ann Maenza, Joe Passalacqua, Brenda Rice, Tom Utterback, and Presley Winner.

Sallie Lanham proposed a service project for the club that would educate third graders in Kentucky on Earthquake Preparedness through coloring book calendars given to the children. The project would be in conjunction with the Division of Emergency Management. The board will consider the project at the April board meeting.

Doug Howard explained the new Rotary website that he created for the club. The Home Page will change each week and include speakers and other items of interest to the club such as the Golf Scramble.

Treasurer John Avent reviewed the financial report. Joe Passalacqua moved that the report be accepted as presented. Seconded by Presley Winner, motion carried.

Brenda Rice shared that God's Pantry has seen the need to provide more food to Franklin County via a mobile food pantry. Workers are needed to help distribute the food, and Brenda suggested that there might be more projects needing our club's participation. The Board voted to approve this as a Rotary project.

The board approved new member Tim Pennington contingent upon no negative response after publication in the newsletter.

Public Relations Coordinator Tom Utterback reported that Rotary segments have been shot for viewing on Cable 10.

Meeting was adjourned. Next board meeting is April 16, 2012.

Well Said...

A man may be very industrious, and yet not spend his time well. There is no more fatal blunderer than he who consumes the greater part of life getting his living. -Henry David Thoreau, naturalist and author (1817-1862)

Commonwealth Rotary
Golf Challenge

We are less than two months from the Friday, May 11 Commonwealth Rotary Golf Challenge sponsored by First Federal. If you have not already done so, now is the time to contact your business peers, fellow workers, and friends to recruit golf teams and sponsors. Lunch is being provided by Staxx BBQ with a 1 p.m. shotgun start at Juniper Hill Golf Course. Registration brochures are available at the meeting registration desk. This is our club's primary fundraiser!

Speaker Crit Luallen, former state auditor and retiree, shakes hands with Arthur Kelly before the start of the meeting.

President Chris welcomes State Journal staff reporter Kay Harrod.
