

At left, Carol Palmore spoke about the Rotary Foundation and named several Frankfort Rotarians who were real “heroes” for donating their time and money to various causes supported by the Foundation. These included Joyce Honaker, Bob Bullock, Barry Holder, Sr., Steve Dooley, Bob Johnston, and Charlie Geveden.

At right, Greeter Fred Deaton welcomes Barry Burkett to Rotary. Barry also spoke at the Rotary meeting.

Next Week's Speaker...

Russ Hatter – “People and Places in Frankfort’s Early History”

After 40 years as a radio announcer – 37 years in Frankfort – Russell Hatter quit the radio business in November 2001 to begin a new career as Assistant Curator of Historic Sites for the Parks and Recreation Department in Frankfort, Kentucky. Born in Cincinnati and educated at Kentucky Christian College in Grayson and Kentucky State University in Frankfort, Hatter combined his love for theatre and history in creating the Downtown Frankfort Walking Tours. He has been involved with Frankfort Heritage Press in publishing several local historical books: “A Walking Tour of Historic Frankfort” with photos by Gene Burch; Volumes I & II of “Historic Images of Frankfort”; “Frankfort Cemetery - The Westminster Abbey of Kentucky”; a reprint of Ebenezer Hiram Stedman’s letters in “Bluegrass Craftsman”; and “Historic Frankfort – Yesterday & Today.” A new book on Frankfort during the Civil War will appear at the Kentucky Book Fair next year.

Besides his years in radio, Hatter has had local television experience, written a local bi-weekly history column in the Frankfort State Journal, directed and acted in numerous theatre productions, and even appeared in the film The Dangers of Dreaming, written, directed and produced by Frankfort City Commissioner Sellus Wilder. He has narrated historical short films, documentaries, and acted in television commercials.

Hatter has ten grandchildren. He and his wife Karen Kimmel Hatter have lived on East Fourth Street in South Frankfort since 1987.
