Next Week's Program...

David Riggins has been President/COO at the Aviation Museum of Kentucky, Inc. since 2014. He started his career in broadcasting after earning broadcasting BA from EKU. News Director and anchor at WVLK Radio, Lexington. He's won numerous AP awards. Subsequent positions in public relations, marketing, non-profit management. Chaired Boy Scout committee for Rotary Club, Lexington. Former scoutmaster and Bluegrass Council executive committee member. Also served as president of Downtown Lexington Corp. (2000-02). David has been a lifelong history buff.

An important part of the mission of the AMK is educating young people about aviation's career potential. The industry employs pilots, mechanics, executives, secretaries, instructors, engineers, clerks, controllers, flight attendants, meteorologists, travel agents, freight handlers, med-evac professionals. The list goes on and on. But their mission extends across the entire educational spectrum – not just to career counseling. The changing exhibits attract approximately 10,000 students to Lexington's Blue Grass Airport each year. Visitors learn about the science of flight, and about its history. They learn how Kentucky has helped shape the field that has so shaped the world.

Well Said...

If more politicians in this country were thinking about the next generation instead of the next election, it might be better for the United States and the world. -Claude Pepper, senator and representative (8 Sep 1900-1989)
