Next Week's Speaker...

Next week's program will feature a reading by the Capital City Museum Troupe, which was gathered by Karen Hatter to celebrate the holiday season. There are a total of 18 performers – three groups of six – from all walks of life. Performing for you gives the museum an opportunity to show our appreciation for your support. Please enjoy these six readers, who will introduce themselves as a part of the performance.

In November of 2004, the Capital City Museum opened its doors to the public. Housed in a 150-year-old building that represents all that is left of the Capital Hotel, which burned in 1917, the museum is two stories filled with history and character. There are plenty of details to explore, with exhibits painting a vivid picture of both political and personal life in Kentucky over the past two centuries.

The Capital City Museum is open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Saturday. There is no admission fee.

“Shoes for Kids”

The Rotary Shoes for Kids Committee would like to thank all club members and the Frankfort community for their donations, which enabled them to purchase 325 pairs of shoes and socks for the Frankfort and Franklin County local schools.

Rotary Christmas Party

Please mark your calendar for Dec. 10 from 5 to 7 p.m. for a Rotary Christmas Party. Fellow Rotarian Wendy Kobler has graciously opened her residence for us at 109 W. Main St., Suite 201 (upstairs at old T-Boat Marine). It will be a pot luck and can serve as a make-up meeting. Donna Hecker will have a sign-up sheet out at the next few weekly meetings for those wishing to attend.

Raffle

Thanks to Phil Webb for donating this week's raffle item.

Attendance Pin Awarded

Congratulations to Jim Richardson for receiving his 33 year Perfect Attendance pin.
