Next Week's Speaker...

Randy Huff is an artist and interior designer whose focus is historic houses. He was born in Hazard, and grew up in Kentucky and Virginia, as his father was in the military. Randy was fascinated by creating art from a young age, and earned his degree in art from Eastern Ky. University while putting himself through school working at Kroger. He later decided to finish a second degree in Interior Design and Housing, which led to an abiding interest in historical design. He has worked in several historic house museums, including Riverside, Liberty Hall and, currently, White Hall Historic site. He enjoys traveling, especially driving throughout the U.S. His most recent trip abroad was to Japan, where he was able to enter one of the giant Buddhas. Eating delicious food is one of his greatest delights. He lives in Lexington with his partner of 29 years and their four cats. His artistic expression is present inside and outside of the house, and in the wild gardens he cultivates.
