Next Week's Speaker...

Mitch Barnhart is the athletics director for the Kentucky Wildcats athletics program at the University of Kentucky. Barnhart was hired by the university in 2002 succeeding Larry Ivy. Barnhart served in the same capacity at Oregon State University from 1998 to 2002. He is the university's tenth athletics director. In March 2016 Barnhart signed an extension on his contract, which will keep him at UK until 2022.

Barnhart

Barnhart received his Bachelor of Arts from Ottawa University and a Master of Science in sports administration from Ohio University. He is currently the longest serving AD in the SEC. For the 2016-17 school year, Kentucky athletics finished 10th nationally in the NACDA Directors' Cup, more than 100 student-athletes graduating, and finishing five straight years with an average GPA of over 3.0.

In addition to the extraordinary achievements of his work world, reaching new heights is also a theme of his personal life. An avid mountain climber, Barnhart has scaled Mount Kilimanjaro, the highest mountain in Africa, along with two of the most challenging peaks in the United States, Mount Rainier in Washington and the Grand Tetons in Wyoming. He has also twice performed tandem parachute jumps with the Army Golden Knights. Impactful in community service, Barnhart has taken part in mission trips and was on the national advisory board of K-Love Radio.

Barnhart and his wife, Connie, also actively serve and support the Christian Student Fellowship and the Fellowship of Christian Athletes on campus in an effort to minister to young people. The Barnharts have three children, Kirby Willoughby, Blaire Jansen and Scott; Kirby's husband, McKenzie; grandsons, Cooper and Reece; Blaire's husband, Andrew; and Scott's wife Cassie.
