Next Week's Speaker...

Dr. Jill Day is a lecturer in Kinesiology and Health Promotion at the University of Kentucky, where she has worked for seven years. Previously, she spent six years as an associate professor of Human Performance at Campbellsville University.

Dr. Hall

She earned her bachelor's and master's degrees in Physical Education at Eastern Kentucky University, and her Doctoral of Education degree in Kinesiology and Health Promotion at UK. A lifelong Kentuckian and native of Manchester, Dr. Day has conducted research related to obesity and physical activity in children living in rural areas, and has recently published a digital textbook, Introductory Principles of Sport and Physical Education. She enjoys traveling, playing tennis, and spending time with family, especially her two nephews, Alex and Daniel.

About Rotary

Rotary brings together a global network of volunteers dedicated to tackling the world's most pressing humanitarian challenges. Rotary connects 1.2 million members of more than 35,000 Rotary clubs in over 200 countries and geographical areas. Their work improves lives at both the local and international levels, from helping families in need in their own communities to working toward a polio-free world.
