ISSUE NO. 44

Next week's meeting...

Chuck Knowles with the City of Frankfort, will discuss the ongoing TIF Redevelopment Plan as it applies to Parcels B and C on the former Capital Plaza site. The city has received a Draft Development Agreement and is currently conducting outreach meetings with groups across the community to discuss this important issue and how it may affect future growth in Frankfort and Franklin County. Knowles is a former deputy state highway engineer with the Kentucky Transportation Cabinet. A native of Elizabethtown, he studied transportation planning and engineering at the University of Michigan and civil engineering at the University of Kentucky.

Knowles

Knowles joined the City of Frankfort to manage its Tiger Grant Program to implement the redesign of the Second Street corridor. He is also conducting community outreach efforts to inform the Frankfort community of progress with the redevelopment of Parcels B

& C, also known as the former Capital Plaza site. In a series of public meetings, there was overwhelming support for a mixed-use plan for the area and local government is working on a Tax Increment Financing plan to support redevelopment. Don't miss this important update on current progress and opportunity to provide much-needed input to the city. Thank you to Steve Stewart for this week's program suggestion.

Frankfort Rotary is inviting you to a scheduled Zoom meeting.
