Next Week's Meeting...

Frankfort Independent Schools new Superintendent Sheri Satterly brings elementary, middle, high school and central office experience, depth of knowledge in finance and arts to Frankfort! The Board announced the hiring of Sheri Satterly as the district's next Superintendent at a special called meeting. The board unanimously approved a four-year contract with Satterly, who currently serves as Assistant Superintendent and Chief Academic Officer of Danville Independent Schools.

Satterly

A Danville alumna, Satterly is also a veteran educator for the district. Her 18-year tenure has included service as an elementary school music teacher and reading interventionist; a middle school counselor and principal; and a high school guidance counselor overseeing college and career readiness. As an administrator overseeing the district's instructional programs and services, Satterly also developed expertise in financial management, federal programs such as Title I and ESSER, and Comprehensive School/District Improvement Planning. Satterly facilitated the formation of Danville Independent's Equity Council and serves on the Kentucky Association of School Administrators' Equity, Diversity, and Inclusion Committee.

A vocalist and former choral director, Satterly also brings a passion for excellence in the arts. Board Chair Jina Greathouse praised Satterly's depth of experience and reputation as a servant-leader, noting that the board plans to host a community meet-and-greet in August. "We look forward to introducing Ms. Satterly to our students, staff, families, and community. It was clear from the outset that she has done her homework on our district, and she is ready and eager to join the Panther family as our next Superintendent." Satterly fills the vacancy left by Dr. Houston Barber, who announced his resignation in April after accepting the position of Fayette County Public Schools Deputy Superintendent.
