Next Week's Meeting...

Now in his 22nd year as Director of Athletics at the University of Kentucky, Mitch Barnhart continues to expand his impact on national and regional levels, all while leading his Wildcats to consistent achievement in the arenas of competition, the classroom and in the community. Having the second-longest term of service among current ADs at schools in the Power 5 conferences, Barnhart's experience, knowledge and synthesis of athletic and academic success have made him a highly respected and sought-after presence across the scope of collegiate sports.

Barnhart

Currently on the Selection Committee for the College Football Playoff, Barnhart has a long history of national service, highlighted by a five-year stint of the NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament Committee that included a historic year as Chair of the first Covid-era event. He is one of only four people who have served on the football playoff committee and as chair of the men's basketball tournament.

A department-wide 3.0 grade-point average among student-athletes and increased community service have been long-standing goals for Barnhart. The GPA benchmark was first met in the spring semester of 2010 and has now reached a streak of 22 consecutive semesters. In spring 2020, UK achieved a cumulative GPA of 3.534, the best in school history. UK athletes have set records for graduation rates and maintained a perfect mark in the 19-year history of the NCAA Academic Progress Rate, making UK one of just two SEC schools never to incur an APR penalty.

A school-record total of 20 Wildcat athletes and coaches participated in the Tokyo Olympics, bringing home a school-record 10 medals, including seven gold.
