Next Week's Meeting...

Brad Wands is Director of Marketing & Business Development of Frankfort Regional Medical Center, part of Nashville, Tennessee-based HCA Healthcare, the nation's leading provider of healthcare services. He joined the company in 2005 and is responsible for the oversight of market strategy and development, brand building, media relations, service line growth, communications, community outreach and physician recruitment for the hospital. Wands began his career at Miami University in Oxford, Ohio as the Assistant Director of Marketing & Promotions for the university's athletic department. After one year, he was promoted to Director of Marketing. Following his time at Miami University, he served as the Director of Marketing at St. Claire Regional Medical Center in Morehead, Kentucky. Wands earned a Master of Science in Sports Administration from Eastern Kentucky University in Richmond, and a bachelor of arts in mathematics and a minor in studio art from Emory University in Atlanta. He was a four-year letter winner in baseball at Emory University, serving as team captain his senior year, and earned First Team All-Conference recognition in 1996, 1997 and 1998 from the University Athletic Association.

Wands

Wands is an active member of the American College of Healthcare Executives, American Marketing Association, Kentucky Society for Healthcare Public Relations & Marketing, and Society for Healthcare Strategy and Marketing Development. He is very active in the community, volunteering for numerous organizations, and currently serves as an Advisory Board Member for the Frankfort Area Chamber of Commerce, Executive Vice President for Georgetown Baseball Club, and Ambassador for the Anderson County Chamber of Commerce. Wands resides in Midway, Kentucky with his wife (Amanda) and three children: Austin (18), Tyler (16) and Ashley (13).
